

NOW *C*OMMUNICATE!
for corporate rejuvenation

October 1, 2008

Re: Susie Fields Carder

To Whom It May Concern:

As a consultant in organizational behavior for nearly 30 years to Fortune 500 companies, Susie Fields Carder is one of the most dedicated Leaders and passionate Learners I have met.

She is a role model for individuals and businesses, having grown to meet many personal and business challenges which ultimately ended in her selling her business for millions to a Fortune 500 company. A results-oriented individual, she has led thousands of business owners to increase their bottom lines through systems analysis and knowledge of corporate cultures.

Individuals thrive under her rigorous coaching as she is an exceptional communicator. Thus, executives, as well as workers, are able to reach goals they barely dreamed were possible.

A passionate problem solver, no dream is too big for her to support. If you want to take your organization to the next level, invite Susie's candor, commitment and expertise into your business.

Sincerely,

Patricia Senecal, M.A.

Consultant in Organizational Behavior